Opportunities, Insights and Support for You to Advance Your Health Career Goals

Saturday, November 10th, 9:00am – 2:00pm
San Francisco State University

- Learn about valuable Internships, Undergraduate and Post-Bac Programs, Conferences and Support sponsored by SF Bay Area HCOP
- Connect with Fellow Pre-Health and HCOP Students and Faculty from HCOP Partner Schools
- Experience and apply proven models to improve your health, happiness and leadership and to achieve your health career goals.

The San Francisco Bay Area HCOP is a partnership between the Stanford School of Medicine, the UC Berkeley School of Public Health, San Francisco State University and Health Career Connection. Our goal is to facilitate the entry of socioeconomically challenged and underrepresented students into the various health professions so as to improve health care access and outcomes for all people and improve health equity. We are funded by a federal grant through the Human Resources and Services Administration.

The SF Bay Area HCOP Symposium will provide the following:
- Brief Talks describing the HCOP-sponsored opportunities offered on each of our campuses.
- Opportunities to network with HCOP leadership and students, and connect with fellow attendees.
- Lunch and an interactive Workshop, led by international expert Greg Hicks and HCOP Leader Jeff Oxendine on how your personality, leadership style and happiness relate to choosing and succeeding in your health career.
- A Wrap-Up in which you will develop key “next steps” to achieve your health career goals.

Registration: Space is limited to 150 participants. Registration is free and available on a first-come, first-served basis. This is an event you do not want to miss!

Location: The symposium will be held on the campus of San Francisco State University. For directions, see important links below.
