- The Water Leaders Class (<http://www.watereducation.org/water-leaders>) is a one-year program that identifies community leaders from diverse backgrounds, including members of minority and ethnic communities, and educates them about water issues across California. The program enhances individual leadership skills and prepares participants to take an active, cooperative approach to decision-making about water resource issues. Leading stakeholders and top policymakers serve as mentors to class members. As a Water Leader, I participated on two multi-day WEF Tours:
  - Flood Management Tour, Lower San Joaquin River and South Delta, 5/24-5/25.
  - Bay-Delta Tour, Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta and San Francisco Bay, 6/13-6/15, <http://www.watereducation.org/tour/bay-delta-tour-2015>.
